VR Process: IPE Development and Provision of Services

Spring 2024

AIVRTTAC is a National Technical Assistance Center serving all AIVRS projects through education, training, and technical assistance to ensure the provision of culturally appropriate vocational rehabilitation services.

Introduction

This issue of Smoke Signals covers the fourth and fifth steps of the vocational rehabilitation (VR) process: the individualized plan for employment (IPE) and service provision. For a discussion of the previous steps of the VR process, see our earlier issues of Smoke Signals on the AIVRTTAC web page. In addition, our VR Process Handbook contains a variety of fillable forms and templates, to which VR counselors can add their project name, letterhead, and other information pertaining to either the project or service participant.
